FATHER RIESS BIDS FAREWELL TO GRAYLING.

Reception Held at School Gymnasium
Tuesday Evening in His Honor.

A pleasant affair of this week was the reception that was held Tuesday evening at the High School gymnasium in order that the public in general might bid farewell to their friend and brother Fr. John J. Riess, who departs today for Grand Rapids to take the pastorate of St. Mary's church of that city to succeed the late Fr. Schmidt. The Ladies' Altar society and the local Council Knights of Columbus planned the successful affair, and a large crowd of both old and young turned out to the gathering.

The gymnasium was made to look like a spacious reception room with tapestry rugs on the floors, floor lamps, tables and comfortable seats arranged here and there. On the tables were bouquets of choice flowers and plants that lent fragrance to the air of the room. In the northeast corner of the room was a semi-circle row of chairs, and seated there were the following gentlemen: Mr. Marius Hanson, Mr. M. A. Bates, Mr. A. E. Mason, Mr. Rasmus Hanson, Rev. Fr. John J. Riess, Fr. Ernest J. Walters, Fr. Riess' successor of Big Rapids, Rev. Fathers Wehler and J. B. Magman of Cheboygan, and Father Nye of Mackinaw City. A. E. Mason announced and introduced the gentlemen, and in turn each was called upon and gave short but very interesting talks, which numbers were loudly applauded.

Each speaker paid high tribute to Fr. Riess and the work he had done while here.

Fr. Riess in a few words extended his thanks to the public in general for their hearty co-operation in helping him to carry on the splendid work he did in Grayling during his time of being pastor of St. Mary's church.

At the end of the program Fr. Riess was presented with a purse of money as a gift of esteem from the parishes of Grayling, Roscommon and Frederic. Fr. Ernest J. Walters of Big Rapids, who is Fr. Riess' successor came to Grayling Tuesday afternoon and had the honor of being introduced at the reception. The crowd filed along the gymnasium floor to meet his honor, Fr. Walters and to bid farewell to Fr. Riess. After this several fine selections were rendered by Pat's orchestra and the remainder of the time was spent in social visiting, during which refreshments of brick ice cream and delicious cake were enjoyed.

Fr. Riess has been in Grayling for the past 16 and a half years and it is needless to say that he will be missed from our community. The appointment which he so recently received as pastor of St. Mary's church Grand Rapids, is a splendid promotion, and we feel highly honored that a pastor from St. Mary's church, Grayling was chosen to fill the place. That his parishioners have already felt the sorrow of his departure from St. Mary's church Grayling, was shown last Sunday at the High mass, where many saddened hearts gathered to hear his farewell sermon.

Fr. Walters the new pastor will commence his official duties next Sunday. He is a young man having only been ordained into the priesthood six years. His home is at Greenville, Mich., but he comes to Grayling from St. Mary's church, Big Rapids. We welcome him to our city.

snowy and many people did not take the trouble to get out to the polls to vote, thus there was a large drop off in the number of votes over last year. 352 votes were cast this year while last year there were 765.

Except in a few offices the margins of victories were small. This was especially so when Joseph Burton, Democrat, won over Melvin A. Bates, Republican, by one vote for the office of supervisor. George McCullough, Democrat, for the office of treasurer defeated Holger Hanson, Republican, by a majority of 141. All the other Republican candidates were elected.

Following is a tabulated report of the voting in Grayling township:

The Democrats had but one candidate for national committeeman—William F. Connolly, who, of course, received the full party vote. Eugene V. Debs was a candidate for presidential preference on the Socialist ticket, but no Socialist tickets were voted in Grayling.

Following is the vote for Presidential preference:

while here inspected some of our local buildings, complaints about which had been sent to the State department, and has condemned two of them and ordered them torn down within sixty days.

One of the buildings is the one story building belonging to L. J. Kraus and used as a storehouse, located next to his hardware store on Main street. The other is the old livery barn belonging to Walmer Jorgensen located next to the Burke garage on Railroad street.

These gentlemen each have received letters directly from the State department ordering them to tear down the buildings.

Following is a copy of the letter sent to Mr. Jorgensen, which is exactly the same as that sent to Mr. Kraus except for the location and description of the building:

April 7, 1920.

Mr. W. Jorgensen,
Grayling, Mich.
Dear Sir:

One of our inspectors recently made an inspection of the property located on the east side of Murray St., owned by you, and reports same to be in a very decayed and dilapidated condition, constituting a fire menace. This department, under authority of the law, is putting forth a great effort to minimize the fire loss and hazard within our State and you can readily appreciate that our efforts will not meet with the success they justly deserve if conditions such as this are tolerated. You are, therefore, requested to take steps to have this building torn down within sixty days of receipt of this notice, and to consult with your local fire chief, Wm. Duclos, who has supervision of work of this nature.

Trusting we may receive your hearty co-operation in our effort to make the State of Michigan "Fire Proof" that you will comply with our request promptly, we are,

Yours very truly,

Asst. State Fire Marshal

UNDERHILL—TETU.

At St. Mary's parsonage at 6:00 Monday evening, a quiet wedding ceremony took place, wherein Miss Bernadette Laura Tetu became the bride of Mr. Alfred E. Underhill. Rev. Fr. John J. Riess performed the ceremony, and the couple were attended by Miss Nola Sheehy and Mr. Wilfred Laurant. After the ceremony the happy wedded pair drove to Lovella to the home of the groom's father, until later when they will enjoy a honeymoon tour to Detroit, Pontiac and other places.

The bride was born, and raised to womanhood in Grayling. She is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Tetu, and for the past several years has held positions in some of our grocery stores as clerk, where she was always found to be very efficient, working for her employer's interests, and with her sunny disposition and pleasing ways won the friendship of all patrons of the places where she served. For the past year she has filled the position as ticket agent at the M. C. R. P. office with the same efficiency and in the same pleasing and agreeable manner. When she left the different places where she was employed it was with much reluctance, that her employer consented to have her go. She is popular with her friends and no doubt will make an admirable wife and companion. Mr. Underhill is the son of Dr. C. F. Underhill of Lovella. He only came to Grayling during last summer, but previous to that time he had made occasional visits here.

Mr. and Mrs. Underhill will be at home to their friends this summer at the Underhill club at Lovella. Even though they will not reside in Grayling, their friends are pleased to know that they are thus near so they may make frequent visits here. They have the best wishes of all hosts and friends for unceasing happiness.

W. S. CHALKER ANSWERS TO TAPS

WAS WELL KNOWN CIVIL WAR VETERAN AND CITIZEN.

Our old friend Comrade Chalker, as he was generally known in this community, passed away at the home of his son Edwin S. Chalker in this city Saturday morning. He recently returned home from Detroit where he had spent considerable part of the winter with his son William and family, and since that time had not been feeling well and was in low vitality, owing, no doubt, to his advanced age. Last week Thursday he became worse and continued so until he finally closed his eyes in that peaceful sleep from which there is no awakening.

William S. Chalker was born in Oxford, Ont., May 29, 1842. At the age of 22 years he went to Port Huron and enlisted for the Civil war in Company I, 1st regiment U. S. artillery, on the 8th day of August, 1864, stationed at Detroit. He served three years as corporal and lance sergeant. He fought in the following battles: Arthur's Swamp; Boynton Plank Road; Weldon railroad; recapture of Fort Steadman; capture of Stony Creek station; siege of Petersburg; fall of Richmond; and surrender of Lee. He became a U. S. citizen during the siege of Petersburg. He was transferred to Texas and served as orderly for the commanding officer in the fight at Matamoros, Texas. He was discharged August 19, 1867 at Brownsville, Texas, and returned to Oxford, Canada. He was married at the latter place and moved to Grand Traverse county, Michigan where he took a homestead. He later lost his wife and then engaged in the lumbering business. He was again married at Mayfield, Michigan, October 14, 1877 to Miss Margaret Murphy, his present wife, to whom three children were born—Eliza, William and Edwin. He moved to Grayling in 1885 and has since resided in Crawford county. He was elected sheriff of the county in 1894 and served two terms and has been three times chairman of the county board of supervisors.

Mr. Chalker was one of our most prominent and honored citizens. He was a member of the county war board during the World war and was one of our most active and enthusiastic war workers, and was one of our most zealous patriots. Seldom was there a patriotic meeting in Grayling or the northern part of the county but that "Comrade" Chalker was present. His fiery speeches will long be remembered by hundreds of people who heard him. He was an inspiration always and ranked in patriotism equal to any of our most zealous citizen. The people loved Comrade Chalker and the news of his death is saddening to his hundreds of warm friends. He was a member of Marvin Post, G. A. R. and his passing away leaves that organization with but six members. For the past six months Mr. Chalker had been planning a reunion of the G. A. R. members of Northern Michigan, which was to have been held in this city sometime during the coming summer.

The funeral service was held in the Michelson Memorial church, Tuesday morning at 10:00 o'clock, Rev. C. E. Doty preaching the sermon. The local merchants closed their places of business during the hour of the funeral. The pall bearers were Melvin A. Bates, Charles Craven of Frederic; Oliver B. Scott of South Branch; John J. Niederer; Ernest P. Richardson and Walmer Jorgensen.

Interment was in Elmwood cemetery where taps were sounded over his grave by Miss Kathryn Clark. The deceased is survived by his wife and three children, three sisters and one brother—Oliver Chalker, Summit, Mich.; Eleeto Mitts, Port Huron; Rosa Dennison, Mountaineer, N. Y. and Emma Pierce, Oxford, Canada.

Those present at the funeral from out of the city were Will Chalker and George Couch, both of Detroit; Mrs. Matt Woodard and Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy, all of Fife Lake and Isadore Lamb of Standish.

GRAYLING TO REMAIN NATIONAL GUARD CAMP.

Grayling will remain the official camping ground by authority of an order from the adjutant general at Washington received by Maj. Edgar H. Campbell, member of the state military board. An effort will be made to place national guardsmen in camp before July 1, he stated. An insufficient number have enlisted in the Grand Rapids company to allow of recognition by the government. One hundred members are needed.

MILBURN WAGON COMPANY TO HANDLE TRUCKS.

A recent development in the Motor Truck industry, which shows the trend of things toward automotive transportation more clearly than any thing else could possibly do, is a recent arrangement perfected by one of the country's oldest and best known farm wagon manufacturers.

For seventy-five years the name "Milburn Wagon" has been a household word throughout the United States. The house of Milburn has long been noted for its honorable dealings and for the quality of its product, and every farmer, both in this generation and the two preceding ones, has known well the product and the reputation of this old and reliable house.

It will be news to many who have bought Milburn wagons in the past to read that the Milburn Wagon Company of Toledo, Ohio, has decided to enter the Motor Truck field, and that the truck which they will handle in the future is the United States.

AN AWAKENING.

Any one who has paid attention to Northeastern Michigan during the past quarter century and who has watched its rather slow development since its first big asset, the pipe forests, was swept away by the demand for lumber and who sees the spirit which the various communities are going at a new development cannot but help to give notice to the awakened energy which has come to these communities.

Boards of Commerce, farm bureaus, farmers' co-operative societies are springing up all over the district and are taking an active part in making their individual communities better places for homes and far better places in which to live and enjoy life than in the crowded industrial cities, where people often occupy beds in relays and where the rent of a single room is frequently more than that of a comfortable house in a small community, and where the proffer fixes his price for necessities according to the wages paid by the factories.

Good roads are being constructed in every county and are helping not only to make life more comfortable for those who live near them, but are attracting hundreds of outsiders every year, especially during the summer season when the lakes and streams, the trout, bass and pike fishing, lure the city-weary men and women to the great out-of-doors.

Northeastern Michigan, with its fertile fields, its streams and its lakes and even with its stretches of jack pine plains, is a wonderful country, one that it is better to come to than it is to go away from, and the people who are already a part of it will do well, not only to stay here, but to help spread its fame throughout the land by telling of the good things which it offers and by continuing the splendid spirit of co-operation and helpfulness which has been aroused among them during the past few years.—Bay City Times Tribune.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan, with electric self-starting and lighting system and demountable rims with 3 1/2-inch tires front and rear, for every day in the year has no equal as a family car. Just as popular on the farm as it is in the city. In fact, it fits the family demands in every vocation of life. Large, roomy seats, finely upholstered, plate glass windows make it an open car in pleasant weather, while in rainy and inclement weather it becomes a closed car, dust-proof and rain-proof. It is not only comfortable, but really cozy, and above all, economical in operation and maintenance, and has all the Ford merits of strength and durability.

HAS NO PAIN NOW

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Warner.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of my stomach I could not get to bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for years and was unable to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and I can do my housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good in female weakness, and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

The reason women write such letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. and tell their friends how they are helped is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives. Freed from their illness they want to pass the good news along to other suffering women that they also may be relieved.

The House of Whispers

By William Johnston Illustrations by Irwin Myers

"THE LITTLE PEOPLE."

Synopsis.—Spalding Nelson receives an invitation to dinner from his great-uncle, Rufus Gaston. On the way he meets Barbara Bradford and renders her a service. She lives in the same apartment building as the Gastons. They go there together. Gaston and his wife are going to Maine for a trip and ask Nelson to live in their apartments. He accepts. The Gastons tell him of mysterious "whispers" about the apartment—"whispers" and noises that have scared them. Going to the apartment a few days later Nelson again meets Barbara, his accidental acquaintance. Nelson meets the building superintendent, Wick, and instinctively dislikes him. In a wall safe he finds a necklace of magnificent pearls. Next day Nelson finds the pearls have disappeared from the wall safe. His first idea of informing the police is not acted upon because of peculiar circumstances. He has been discharged from his position without adequate explanation or reason, and feels himself involved in something of a mystery. He decides to conduct an investigation himself. That night Barbara signals from the window of her apartment, which is opposite his, and they arrange a meeting for next day. In the morning he finds a note in his room, asking him why he had not informed the police of the loss of the jewels. Barbara tells Nelson her sister Claire had some years before made a runaway marriage with an advertisement, from whom she was soon parted, and the marriage had been annulled. Claire is engaged to be married and someone knowing of her escapade has stolen documents concerning the affair from the Bradford apartment and is attempting to blackmail the Bradfords. Nelson and Barbara exchange confidences about the "whispers," mysterious notes and other queer doings, which are much alike in both apartments.

CHAPTER V—Continued.

I wondered which had been his bedroom. It was hardly likely that he had occupied the room in which I slept. As I debated the matter I heard someone moving about my room and went to investigate. It was Mrs. Burke, making up my bed. She would know which room my great-uncle had been accustomed to occupy.

As I entered the bedroom for the purpose of cross-questioning her, my first impression—and philosophers tell us that the first is most likely to be the correct one—was of a simple-minded, kindly old Irish woman of the utmost honesty. I was certain just by looking at her that there wasn't a crooked hair in her head, even if she had had the intelligence necessary for crimes beyond the ordinary.

"It's Mr. Nelson I'm seeing at last," she exclaimed with satisfaction. "I was wondering when I would be laying eyes on ye."

"Yes," said I. "I am Mr. Nelson, Mr. Gaston's great-nephew."

"Sure and I'd have known ye any where. It's as like ye as two peas, barring the old gentleman's white hairs."

Her statement rather startled me, for while I never had regarded myself as an Adonis, on the other hand I never had supposed I looked anything like old Rufus.

"Was this my great-uncle's bedroom when he was here?" I asked, trying to make my inquiry seem casual.

"It was and it wasn't," Mrs. Burke replied. "He gets queer notions, the old gentleman does. In the last few weeks he's slept in every room in the house."

"What made him do that?"

"It's not for me to be saying," devoutly she crossed herself. "Sometimes I do be thinking the house is haunted. The old man was all the time mumbling about—"

"Sometimes I Do Be Thinking the House Is Haunted."

She hesitated and looked furtively about.

"About whispers," I suggested. Instead of replying to my question she shot another one at me.

"And have ye been hearing them, too?"

I laughed, trying to put a note of merriment into my tones.

"I don't believe in things like that," The old woman nodded her head sagely.

"It ain't believing in them things that makes ye hear them. Either ye hear them or ye don't. The old man heard them."

"How do you know?"

"Didn't I hear him asking myself about it? He heard them, many times."

"How about the others—the servants—didn't they hear them, too?"

"—have that. Niggers is always hearing things anyhow. It's what the white folk hear that counts."

"How about the other apartments in the house? Do the people in them hear whispers?"

"Never that I've heard tell of, but how should I know? This is the only place in the house that I work."

"Did Mrs. Gaston ever speak to you about it?"

"She did and she did not. She never in so many words asked me if I heard them. All she says to me was, 'Nora, if ever you see or hear anything strange or unusual here, you're to let me know at once.' And I says, 'Yis, Mrs. Gaston, I will.'"

"And have you ever seen or heard anything?"

The old woman busied herself with making up the bed for a moment before she answered me.

"I'm not saying I've seen anything," she began, "but there's things I could be telling if I was minded to open my lips."

"If you know anything," I said, "you must tell me. Mr. Gaston put me here to find out what was wrong."

"There's no doubt there's wrong here."

"What makes you say that? What have you seen? What do you know?"

"It's neither what I've seen nor what I know," she nodded mysteriously. "It's what I've been hearing myself."

"For heaven's sake, woman," I cried, losing patience, "what is it you've heard?"

"I've heard them walking," she announced with an air of triumph.

"You've heard who walking?"

"The little people, of course. Who else would it be doing it?"

"Oh, hush," I exclaimed. I was well enough acquainted with the superstitions of the Irish to understand who she meant by "the little people." It's the habit of the old crones from the Emerald Isle to attribute anything they cannot understand to fairies.

"You may laugh," she retorted indignantly, "but I heard them, I tell ye."

"Where did you hear them, these footsteps?"

"Coming right out of the wall, here in this room, and in the kitchen, beyond."

"It was probably somebody in another apartment you heard."

"It was not. The floors do be deadened like, and it's nothing at all you can hear. It was somebody walking soft-like right there in the wall at me back."

"Well," I announced, "if there is anything like that going on, I am going to stay here until I hear it. I want to make sure no one can come into the apartment but myself, so I am going to ask you to give me your key. I'll be home here all the morning, so I can let you in when you ring."

"It's me key ye're wanting, is it?"

She produced it from a pocket of her gown and handed it over, first unnoticingly from a corner of her kerchief where she had tied it for safe keeping.

"And indeed if it's me key ye're not trusting with a key after Mrs. Gaston letting me have it for these ten years back. It's your own bed ye can be making. I'll not be coming near the place again."

In fine indignation she flounced out of the place. To tell the truth I was not sorry that she had announced her decision not to return. While my impression of her was that she was a simple-minded old woman of uttermost honesty, I was just as well satisfied that no one but myself should have entry to the apartment until I had finished my investigations and had made further progress in solving the mysteries that were so rapidly developing.

Left once more to myself, I sat down at my great-uncle's desk and made out a list of questions that must be answered:

1. Where was Rufus Gaston? Had the old gentleman really gone away or was he in hiding in the building?

2. Who had removed the Gaston pearls from the wall safe? It must be someone who knew the combination.

3. Who had written the note I found on the floor of my bedroom? How and when had it been placed on the floor there?

4. Who were the persons who were trying to blackmail the family next door?

5. How had the anonymous notes been delivered on the floor of Barbara Bradford's room? (Evidently the writer was the same as in my case.)

6. Was there anything in the past relations of Mr. Bradford and my great-uncle that would cause my great-uncle to plot against the Bradford family?

7. How were the mysterious sounds heard both by my great-uncle, by Barbara Bradford, and by myself to be accounted for?

8. How were the mysterious footsteps heard by Mrs. Burke to be explained? Were they merely the imaginings of a superstitious old woman?

The relations between Mr. Bradford and Rufus Gaston puzzled me. Miss Bradford's recollection of her father's remark about my great-uncle certainly indicated that he held no high opinion of him. My great-uncle's actions throughout had been peculiar. His suddenly sending for me and insisting on my coming here to live, his insistence on leaving his wife's jewels in my care, and on entrusting me with the combination of the safe, all now took on a sinister aspect. It certainly was peculiar that he had gone off without leaving me any address where he could be reached.

Then, too, there was my own unexpected and unwarranted discharge at my place of business. I was positive in some way it was connected with my having come to this place to live. Had my great-uncle himself brought it about for the purpose of discrediting me? Was it the work of the blackmailers to get square with me for having accidentally butted in on the meeting they had arranged with Miss Bradford?

The scar-faced man! Who was he? I was certain that he was in some way involved. It might have been he who had caused me to lose my job. Certainly the malevolent glance he had given me in the restaurant that night showed that he would have wrought me harm if he could. The next time I laid eyes on him I was determined to trail him with bulldog tenacity until I ascertained his identity and where he lived. I felt sure that the trail of the mystery would lead to his door.

I decided not to leave the apartment all day. I had laid in a plentiful supply of food the day before so there was no necessity for my going out. There was plenty of work for me to do. I must try to devise some way of examining the safe door and the jewel box and carefully dusted it over with the powder. I hoped that the powder would reveal markings of hands on the box, but either I was too inexperienced or my method was wrong, for I succeeded in obtaining

From one of the toilet tables I obtained some fine powder and opening the wall safe again I took out the jewel box and carefully dusted it over with the powder. I hoped that the powder would reveal markings of hands on the box, but either I was too inexperienced or my method was wrong, for I succeeded in obtaining myself than to her. "I wonder if it could be anyone walking in their sleep."

"You mean"—she hesitated—"my sister?"

"I don't mean anyone," I hastened to say. "I was only thinking aloud, wondering if it could be a possible explanation. I have heard of innocent people doing all sorts of things under a hypnotic influence."

"I've read of that, too," she said soberly. "I wonder—"

She left the sentence unfinished, but I felt that the same thought had flashed into her mind as into mine. Was it possible that the unscrupulous Frenchman who had wronged her sister years ago had in some way recently gained an interview with her and had gotten her once more into his power? Could it be that under the spell of another's mind Claire Bradford herself had taken away the papers concerning the annulment of her marriage and was placing the notes in the blackmail plot?

"Look here," I said determinedly, "we've got to see each other somewhere tomorrow and talk this over. Where can we meet?"

"I'm afraid I can't manage it tomorrow. I'm busy with my mother and sister all day long. Tuesday, perhaps. But we mustn't talk here longer. Good night."

"Good night," I called softly but her head had been already withdrawn, so quickly that I hardly knew whether she heard me. As I was about ready for bed I recalled that I had spent most of the money I had in my pockets, so I visited the bookcase where I had secreted my hoard and taking out a twenty-dollar bill, wrapped it about the three one-dollar bills I had left and put the roll in my trousers pocket.

The next morning, as I was dressing, I happened to draw forth my money. I gazed at it horror-stricken. I distinctly recalled having wrapped the twenty-dollar bill about the three smaller bills. Now one of the dollar bills was on the outside.

There before me was indisputable evidence that someone had been in my room while I slept, someone had gone through my pockets and had examined my money. Someone had put the dollar bill on the outside of the roll.

SUPREME COURT LEAK FOUND

Grand Jury Indicts Clerk of Judge and Three Others for Conspiracy.

Washington.—Indictments have been handed down by the federal grand jury against four men, two minor government officials, who have recently resigned and two outsiders, as the result of investigations conducted by the department of justice following revelations indicating that a coterie of Wall street speculators was profiting through a leak of decisions of the United States supreme court.

Those indicted were: Ashton P. Embury, private secretary (resigned) to Associate Justice Joseph McKenna; of the United States supreme court; J. Harwood Graves, attorney in special division, department of justice (resigned); B. E. Moses, attorney at law, and Washington business man; E. M. Weyer, formerly major in the United States army, president of the Federal Supply company, Washington, D. C.

The four men were indicted on a charge of conspiracy to cheat and defraud the United States in connection with the alleged leak of the United States supreme court regarding a suit of the United States against the Southern Pacific railroad company.

The indictment charges that the accused conspired to cheat and defraud for the purpose of engaging in speculation upon the New York stock exchange and other stock markets upon the faith and advantage of private information as to the time and conclusions and result of the decisions given by the United States supreme court.

SUFFRAGE LOSES IN DELAWARE

Lower House Defeats Amendment to Give Women Vote.

Dover, Del.—Ratification of the equal suffrage amendment was defeated in the lower house of the legislature last week by a vote of 23 to 9.

Delaware was counted on to be the 23rd state to ratify suffrage which would have given the women of the Nation the ballot.

The house later defeated a motion to reconsider, thus killing the measure for this session.

Eight Republicans and one Democrat supported the resolution and 13 Republicans and 10 Democrats voted against it.

Governor Townsend said: "I think suffrage is thoroughly beaten. I am sorry for some Republican representatives have brought a stain upon the integrity of the Republican party."

IRISH HOME RULE IS ASSURED

British House of Commons Gives Measure Big Majority.

London.—The new Irish Home Rule Bill passed the House of Commons on second reading last week, after a brilliant speech by Premier Lloyd George. The vote, 348 to 94, assures passage of the bill on its third and last reading.

The premier compared Ireland to the American South before the Civil War and Prof. W. DeValera, the Sinn Féin "President of the Irish Republic," to Jefferson Davis.

"The Home Rule Bill gives Ireland powers more extensive than those of the American states," said the premier. "Wales and Scotland would be proud if the same measure of self-government was offered to them."

Simplified Spelling Loses Favor

Columbus, O.—Simplified spelling no longer has the sanction, either official or tacit, of the Modern Language Association of America as an organization. Its use in the association's publications was abandoned last week because of lack of enthusiasm for the new method, because it was declared to be making no progress and because it offended some of the members of the association. Simplified spelling has been used by the association for 11 years.

GENERAL STRIKE CALLED OFF

Revolutionists Charge That Allies Backed Attempt to Overthrow Present Republic.

Dusseldorf.—Soldiers of the workmen's army in the Ruhr district must make a delivery of their arms to local authorities before April 15 under the agreement reached between the government and the central committee of the workmen's general conference at Essen.

The commander of the communist troops before Wesel gave a pledge to the conference for the strict observance of the agreement. He declared he had really a good army, but could not continue fighting because he lacked ammunition and asserted all looting had been suppressed and that all looters had been shot.

There is some apprehension felt as to a few extremist groups, particularly as they have learned of a report that government troops have entered the edge of the Ruhr district at several points and that two workmen's delegates were arrested while going to Essen for the conference.

The general strike throughout the Ruhr industrial and mining district has been ordered called off.

At the last meeting of the workmen's speakers said that the revolutionists could not have lived to accept a final agreement if the Allies had not backed them.

ASSEMBLY EVICTS SOCIALISTS

New York Legislature Holds Ousted Men Were Disloyal to U. S.

Albany, N. Y.—Five Socialists, Louis Waldman, August Claessens, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. Dewitt and Samuel Orr, all of New York city, the entire delegation of their party in the New York assembly, have been expelled from the legislature.

The majorities in favor of unseating the men, suspended on the opening day of the legislative session on charges of disloyalty, were substantial.

The resolutions charged the Socialist members with being engaged in a "large and well-organized conspiracy to subvert the due administration of the law and to destroy the right to own and hold private property honestly acquired, and to overturn the whole fabric of our constitutional form of government."

By its action the assembly established a precedent unique in legislative history in the United States as never before has an entire party delegation been ejected from any legislative body.

The evicted men say they will appeal their case to the supreme court.

RAIL WAGE CONFERENCE ENDS

Owners Refuse to Consider Demands Unless Public is Represented.

Washington.—Wage negotiations between the conference committees representing the railroads and the unions were broken off last week when the railroad representatives declined to continue consideration of demands which have been estimated to total $1,000,000,000, unless the public was given a voice in the proceedings.

Under the provisions of the transportation act, the wage controversy now will be referred to the railroad labor board, which is yet to be appointed by President Wilson. The law provides for three representatives of the public on the board.

Guaranty provisions of the new railroad law will cost the government approximately $175,000,000 for the six months they are operative, Secretary Houston estimates.

INDIGESTION

Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloating after eating, food repulsing, sour, gassy stomach, there are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless traceable to an acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, leucemia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental ailments that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pain in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic as the others.

GRAYLING, THURSDAY, APRIL 8

WHAT IS BEING DONE ON EAST MICHIGAN PIKE.

That there will be a hard surfaced road all the way from Bay City to Mackinaw within two or three years and that 80 per cent of the section of this road between Bay City and Alpena will be completed before the end of 1920, is the promise which M. DeGlopper, district engineer of the state highway department, is making to the people of northeastern Michigan.

In addresses at Alpena and West Branch last week he told what has been done and what is to be done this year on the East Michigan pike, of which there are 147 miles from Bay City to Alpena and 114 miles from Alpena to Mackinaw.

Between Bay City and Alpena 59 miles have been built, 28 1/2 miles are already contracted for and 28 miles will be contracted for before the end of June, all built or to be built under the state highway plans. In addition there are 16 miles of what is known as "Class A" gravel road, which accounts for practically 90 per cent of the road between Bay City and Alpena. North from Alpena 43 miles of road have been built and there is every prospect that several large sections will be constructed this year.

"You needn't send me any more literature about northeastern Michigan," writes Arthur Waite, of Kearney Park, Fresno Co., California, to Secretary Marston, of the Northeastern Michigan Development bureau. "I'm coming. Iosco county will get me."

Mr. Waite is only one of the many who have been attracted to Northeastern Michigan by the Development bureau advertising, and the effects of that advertising are increasing like the snow ball which the small boy starts rolling.

The Vanderbilt Co-operative association and the Vanderbilt Association of Commerce held a big community meeting on Friday, April 2, with a program called for an all-day session, a big dinner was served at noon and good music and other entertainment. Among the addresses one was given on "Cooperation between the Farmer and the Industrial Worker," by L. G. Herbert, a talk by Milo D. Campbell, the candidate of the state farmers' organizations for the republican nomination for governor, one by T. F. Marston, secretary of the Development bureau and one by Dorr D. Buell, manager of the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange. The West Branch Board of Commerce has started out on a progressive program which calls not only for work to develop the resources of West Branch, but also a close co-operation with the farming communities of the county to aid in developing of the country as an agricultural center which will be so attractive that people won't plan on quitting the farms for the big cities.

Proofs of the advertising which has been planned for the East Michigan Travel and Resort association have been prepared and every resort and summer outing picture shown in them is a scene from some section of Northeastern Michigan, Detroit, Flint, Port Huron, Pontiac and Bay City are co-operating with the Development bureau in the work of financing this advertising campaign.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES.

Easter, the gladdest day of the year, in St. Mary's church was the saddest, as that was the last Sunday Fr. Riess would be its pastor. The altars in their splendor with flowers and lighted candles, were beautiful, and special music by the choir, mixed voices, filled the air, but still there was sadness in the hearts of the congregation of St. Mary's church. Fr. Riess delivered his farewell sermon at the high mass, and tears of sorrow fell from the eyes of all, as he bade them "Farewell, and God be with you." Not many who were in attendance at the service will very soon forget the Easter of 1920.

The Danish-Lutheran church had special services also in honor of the day that proclaims, that "He has Arisen" with extra music. There was a large crowd of the good people of that church in attendance.

The Easter service at the Michelson Memorial church was very impressive. Several children were christened. Some adults joined on profession of faith, some others by letter and a class of 22 young people joined on probation making in all about 40 to join the church. Rev. Doty omitted the sermon on account of the other services. A large number were present to celebrate the resurrection of Christ, which makes Easter the most sacred day in the year in all churches.

Little-Girl, Big-Boy, and The Garden Elf.

(Written for the United States School Garden Army, Department of the Interior.)

LITTLE-GIRL AND THE WIDE, WIDE WORLD.

Good morning, sun, good morning, grass and trees,
 Good morning, pretty flowers and honey bees!
 Good morning, sky, that looks so cool and blue,
 Good morning, world, I'm glad I live in you.

And I am sure everyone should be glad to live in such a beautiful world. Little-Girl was glad that she lived in it, and so was Big-Boy. Little-Girl lived in a low white house that nestled down in the very center of a lovely garden. Her window overlooked the garden. It was a garden of gay blossoms; of sweet grasses and climbing vines; of bursting seed pods and budding leaves. A robin hopped upon the grass. The bumble bee sang her a song:

"Bumble, bumble," sang the bee,
 Come to the clover fields with me;
 There you shall see where my work doth lie;
 No busier worker than I, than I."

"Why, Bumble Bee, I didn't know that you were a worker," said Little-Girl. "I thought the honey bee that gives us golden honey was the only busy bee."

"Bumble, bumble, tho' I'm humble and not a sting, like your sister, I am useful," sang the bumble. "I give you food, Oh, Maid and Mister."

"I should say she does," chirped a tiny voice that seemed to come from a clump of violets.

What was that? Little-Girl was sure she had heard a voice, but perhaps it was the rustling of the leaves. She knew that all old gardens have voices; that they sang and laughed in the sunshine, and wept on rainy days and crackled when Jack Frost came around. And at night she heard the little adding notes of katydids and the crickets. And in the morning bird calls opened her eyes.

"He-ho, he-ho, he-ho!"
 Was that a bird with its morning call?
 "He-ho, he-ho, he-ho!"
 Look coming over the garden wall!

NEW VILLAGE COUNCIL TOOK OVER REINS MONDAY NIGHT.

President Olson Makes Appointments for Year. M. Brenner and Julius Nelson to hold appointments as Marshal and Street Commissioner.

The new village council assumed its new duties Monday evening of this week and was called to order by President elect, Geo. N. Olson. All members were present. The new members of that body are Joseph Burton, Arthur McIntyre and Harry Simpson. These together with Dr. Charles A. Canfield, George W. McCullough and Al. Roberts make up the administrative force of the village. Also the newly elected clerk, Chris Jensen, was on duty.

After the reading of the minutes of the last regular and intervening meetings President Olson announced that he had received several petitions for the appointment of Village marshal and street commissioner. These were presented and read by the clerk. There were long lists of signers requesting the appointment of M. Brenner, Alfred Cripps and Al. Cramer as Marshal. At lists for the appointment of Julius Nelson and Peter L. Brown. Mayor Olson stated that instead of assuming the authority of making the appointments for these two offices that he would request the trustees to make the selection by ballot. On the first ballot for Marshal, M. Brenner received five votes and Mr. Cripps one. For street commissioner Mr. Brenner received four votes and Mr. Brown two.

Whereupon President Olson made the following appointments for the following year:
 Marshal M. Brenner
 Street Commissioner..... Julius Nelson
 Fire chief and warden—Wm. Duclos

Also the standing committees of the council, which appear in the official report of the proceedings, published elsewhere in this issue.

One of the important resolutions passed at this session was the prohibition of selling fireworks within the village limits. Another was the adoption of Eastern standard time. Also $75.00 was appropriated for the Northeastern Michigan development bureau to aid in advertising this section of the state.

Quite a number of spectators were present during the session.

And if it wasn't Big-Boy climbing over the wall where the rose vines grow.
 He tumbled right down into the pansy bed and the pansies opened their purple eyes very wide indeed, they were so surprised.
 "Did you hear a voice?" asked Little-Girl. "Someone spoke to me about the Bumble Bee," but just then a tiny little fellow dressed in smock of green.

Hopping along on the grass was seen. Was he a pixie, an elf, or a fay? For he beckoned and piped, "Shall I lead the way?"
 "There he is! There he is!" cried Little-Girl, her curls dancing up and down in her excitement. "Oh, look at him, Big-Boy!"

"Why, how do you do?" asked the Little Elf Man, hopping up and down on one foot, "How do you, and how do you do, and how do you do again?"
 "What a funny little man," said Little-Girl, and just then the queer little green man began to sing this song:
 "Oh, I am a little Elf Man bold,
 And I live by myself 'neath the garden mold,
 But I grew lonely so I came out
 To show Little-Girl and Boy about;
 So fol-de-rol-de-rol-de-re,
 Follow me, follow me!"

And the astonishing little man turned a somersault into the air, and landed on a leaf where he bounced up and down as if he had been on a seesaw. "And now you are ready for your trip to the fairland of Nature, so follow me, follow me!"

Just then something sounded thru the air. It sounded like the top that Little-Girl's baby brother set spinning—
 "Hum-hum-hum-hum-hum."
 "Bumble, bumble, sang the bee,
 'Are you going without me?'"

"Have patience, Madame Bumble. We have another bee in our bonnets this morning," said the Little Elf Man. "We'll listen to your story another day."

"Hum-hum-hum-hum-hum" sang the Bumble Bee. They had better let me tell them how I make red clover grow!" By Cecilia Reynolds Robertson.

To celebrate the Fifth anniversary of their organization of a camp in Grayling, the Ladies National League entertained with a pedro party at the C. A. R. hall last Thursday evening. Each member invited a friend to spend the evening with them. The pedro game resulted in Mrs. Nelson Corwin and Mr. Ben Yoder winning the first prizes, and second prizes were also given. Consolations fell to Miss Bessie Brown and Mr. Ed. V. Barber. Another amusement that caused a lot of merriment was a grab bag. There were about 35 in all present and each member brought lunch enough for two, nicely placed in a basket, which was an enjoyable feature of the party. Everyone seemed to have a good time at the fifth anniversary celebration of the Ladies National League.

IT IS SOME JAG.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. may be handicapped by too many millions, but he is not short on brains.

Young John says the American people are on a spending jag and that if they do not soon cease their extravagance and get back to producing more than they spend we are due for hard times and national want. The prelude to this will be a panic.

Young John is right. He sees the handwriting on the wall while others see only the possibility of additional extravagance and greater pleasures. Barnum said it, and the American people are confirming it. We are heading for a jolt.—Gladwin Record.

Cataract Deafness Cannot Be Cured
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure cataract deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrh Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for each case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists.

A WORLD REBUILT

By the Golden Rule
 not by the rule of Gold

THIRTY denominations of the Church are uniting in a simultaneous campaign in the week of April 25th-May 2nd.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

These churches know that the world needs many things; but it needs Faith most of all.

They know that there can be no final solution of our economic problems that is not a spiritual solution, based on the teachings of Jesus Christ and His Golden Rule.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the Churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

The budget is large in the aggregate; yet if each person who loves America would increase his contribution by only a few dollars the whole amount would be easily subscribed.

We face the task of rebuilding the world. Let the cornerstone be a strong and vital church in every American community; and the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

Some weather! Beginning with wind storms about a week ago we have had snows, more blows and sunshine. The big snow storm that covered lower Michigan and northern Ohio with about a foot of the "beautiful" Saturday and Sunday, let us off with but a few flurries.

A dressed bear displayed in the window of the Burrows meat market the first of the week attracted a lot of attention. He was a black bear and had been caught in a trap by Ed J. BE THOROUGH. Don't confine your improvements to the exterior of the home alone. You only see the exterior from the outside, and at least some members of your family spend more time within the home than without.

OF COURSE you must freshen up the exterior with paint when it needs it—it's good for the house as well as for the public eye, but you should have a thought for the interior as well.

A FEW PIECES of new furniture distributed thru the various rooms now and then, will keep the interior up-to-date, comfortable and attractive not only to the entire family, but to that portion of the public eye that you admit to the privacy of your homes.

What is Chiropractic?

The foremost drugless method in the United States today is that of CHIROPRACTIC. Not only are there MORE Chiropractors in business, but the LARGEST NON-MEDICAL INSTITUTION in the world is a CHIROPRACTIC SCHOOL. The reason for this lies in the simple, logical and reasonable explanation upon which the science is founded, and in the PERCENTAGE OF RESULTS OBTAINED.

There is a vital force or life current which is carried to ALL parts of the body thru the nerve trunks and their branches. As ALL the nerve trunks have their origin in the brain, then it is a logical conclusion that the center from which this life is distributed must be the brain.

It is a well-known fact that an organ stops functioning when the nerves supplying it are cut, that being true there it is equally true that they function improperly when the nerves supplying them are pinched.

In brief, the carrying capacity of these nerves is destroyed if they are cut, while it is diminished if they are pinched.

Examination discloses the fact that there is one place and only one, where these nerve fibres can be pinched. This is in the spine where they leave the spinal cord and make their exits thru tiny openings between the bony segments. If one of these segments gets out of position, the size of the opening is decreased and as a consequence the nerves are pinched.

If the affected nerve supplies the heart we have some form of disease expressing itself there if on the other hand, it is the nerves supplying the Stomach, Kidneys or bowels then we have abnormal function there. It makes no difference what organ is affected, it can be traced back to the spine and there it will be found that one of the vertebrae (small bones) found in the spine is out of position.

The Chiropractor is trained to locate the nerves which are at fault, to determine the places where they make their exit from the spine, and to adjust the displaced vertebrae back to their normal positions, when this is accomplished the pressure on the nerves is relieved and health will follow as a result, because the life current is allowed to pass freely to the diseased organs or parts.
